PREFACE

This is my story. It's not one of those action packed stories you see on TV. It's a real story. The story of a boy born in another time and place far removed from the world as you know it. If you could be carried back to the year 1922 and sit down in the little town of Seymour, Missouri, you would be astonished—better you would be lost. You wouldn't know the first thing about getting up in the morning, going through the day, or going to bed at night.

You see, there was no electricity in our rural community. No electric lights, no electric stove, no refrigerator, no toasters, no coffee makers, no TVs, no telephones, no hair curlers, no running water, nothing powered by electricity, except the battery-operated radios--they ran off car batteries.

The radios often had more static than sound. When we couldn't hear very well, one of the kids would go outside and pour water around the ground wire. That seemed to help. When the battery ran down, we took it down town to get it charged.

I was six years old before TV was invented. It was years after that before they were available in homes. Floydene and I bought our first one after we were married—about 1951, I believe. TV games were in the far distant future. Can you imagine a day without them?

When I was a boy, we walked to school. We traveled by wagon to town and church. There were a few Model A Fords, but not many people could afford to own them.

Once in awhile, we saw a plane fly over, but we never dreamed of making a trip in one. The first jet engine was not invented until 1939, so jet passenger planes and space travel were unheard of. Now, I can go on the computer, plan my trip, get discounted tickets, printout a ticket, go to the airport, put the ticket in a machine and fly to any place I can afford.

You guys grew up in the computer age. I never heard of such a thing when I was in school. I was 17 years old (1939) before the first digital computer came into existence. They were not available to the public for several more years.

Disc recordings—games and music—came much later. Our music came from tape players (1942), 33 1/3 rpm records (1948), 45 rpm records (1949), stereo LP recordings (1958), Compact Cassette Recording (1963), and 8-track players (1966). Laserdisc video recordings were not on the market until I was 56 years old (1978). DVD video recordings came on the scene in 1996. I was 74 years old.

The Internet is common place for you. Some of you will not remember when it was not available. Today, children in kindergarten know how to get online, but there was no such thing before 1973. I was 88 years old before the World Wide Web came into existence.

I have lived in exciting and amazing times. God only knows what will come next, but I am ready whatever He has planned.

Introduction

by Jack Scott

You need to understand how this book was put together. Several months ago, Everett and I decided his descendants needed his story. So, he took time to write out his memories in longhand and I typed them.

In my research, I found a lot of information on the Barker, Silvey, Wingo, and related families. I took notes on the source of the information and recorded it in my Family Tree Maker genealogy program.

Some of the research was included in the text, but source notes can be very boring, so most of them were included at the end of the book.

There is no need to tell you this family history is not perfect. Family histories never are—they are in process. You will find errors. Names were often misspelled in old documents. Dates and places were not always recorded properly by census takers and informants. Spelling was often wrong or illegible. So, look over the mistakes and enjoy your history.

PART ONE

The Roots of My Story

John Henry Barker

William Elkaney Barker

Roy Elmer Barker

John Henry Barker 1853-1910

My earliest ancestor was John Henry Barker who was born in October 1853 in Virginia. He died in 1910 in Webster County, Missouri at the age of 57.

He married Rebecca Ella Barker. She was born February 22, 1859 in Virginia and died April 19, 1914, in Seymour, Webster County. According to her Death Certificate (#15128), she was born in Kentucky and died in Seymour. She is buried in the Barker Cemetery.

The reference to her birth in Kentucky is not consistent with the 1900 census, but this is not unusual. The informant and transcriber of these documents have much to do with the accuracy of them.

We are not sure, where they were married. It may have been in Virginia, but most likely it was in Kentucky. At the time of the 1900 Census, they had been married twenty-four years. That would have been in 1876, the year William Elkaney, their first child, was born. He was born in Hart County, Kentucky on November 26, 1876.

They were living in Webster County, Missouri on October 17, 1890. The Springfield Bureau of Land Management issued them a land document (#6381) on that date.

It was ten years later, June 25, 1900, before we found them again. They appeared on the 1900 Webster County Census, in the Finley Township: John Barker, age 46, born in October 1853, in Virginia, and his wife, Rebecca E., age 42, born in February 1858, in Virginia. Alpha M., their daughter, was born February 1890, in Missouri. Rosa A., niece, was born May 1895, in Missouri

That census indicated Rebecca was the mother of nine children, three of them then living. Their daughter, Alpha, age 10, however, was the only one listed. She was born in Missouri, in February 1890. Their son, William E. Barker, however, his wife Nellie J., and son, Roy E., age 3, were living next door.

Even though the 1900 Census indicates they had nine children, we have record of only two: William Elkaney Barker and Alpha M. Barker.

We will talk about William Elkaney later. He is in Everett's direct line of descent, however, we will include Alpha here.

Alpha M. Barker

Alpha M. Barker was born June 7, 1901, in Webster County and died October 15, 1995, in Rogersville. She married Albert Jennings on October 20, 1912, in Wright, Webster County. He was born about 1892 in Missouri.

We first find Alpha on the 1900 Webster County Census which was enumerated June 25, 1900. She was with her parents: Alpha M., daughter, born February 1890, age 10, born in Missouri.

On 25 April 1910, she was in the home of her mother (Her father had passed away). The census shows: Rebecca E. head, age 52, widow, born in Virginia, parents born in Virginia; Rosa A., daughter, age 15, born in Missouri; and Alla [Alpha], daughter, age 21, born in Missouri.

She was married by 1920 and on June 17, 1920 was listed on the Webster County Census with her husband: Albert Jennings, head, age 28, born in Missouri, parents born in Missouri. Alpha, wife, age 29, born in Missouri. Her Father was born in Tennessee, her mother in Missouri. Lena, her only known daughter, age 2/12, was born in Missouri.

William Elkaney Barker 1876-1950

William Elkaney Barker was born November 26, 1876, in Horse Cave, Hart County, Kentucky and died April 26, 1950 in Carthage, Jasper County, Missouri.

He married Nellie Jane Wingo on December 1, 1895, in Webster County. She was born June 1, 1880, in Missouri.

World War I Draft Registration records show he registered for the draft in Seymour.

His death certificate (#13428) states that he was a retired farmer. He died at the age of seventy-three years and five months. He is buried in Park Cemetery, Carthage, Missouri. At the time of his death he resided at 721 Oak St., Carthage.

On the 1900 Webster County Census, numerated on June 25, 1900, William Elkaney, a farmer, was twenty-three years of age. He had been married to Nellie J. for four years and they had three children. Only one, however, Roy E., age 3, was then living.

The 1910 Webster County Census, enumerated April 25, shows William, age 33, his wife Nellie, age 22, Roy E., son, age 12, Carrie, daughter, age 9, Volina [Yvonne], daughter, age 7, Ray T., son age 4, and Edna, daughter, age 12.

They appear again on the 1920 Webster County Census, enumerated on January 2. William was 43, Nellie E., 41, Yvonne, 17, Ray T., 14, Edna, 12, and Thelma, 4 6/12. No longer living in the home are: Roy and Carrie.

In 1930, the census shows that William and Nellie are still living in Webster County, with their daughters, Thelma and Doris.

Nellie Jane Wingo 1880 - ?

We did not research the Wingo family, but did find some interesting bits of their history. You will find it in Part Three "Related Families."

At this point it is sufficient to say that her father, John A. Wingo, was born in 1844 and died in 1929. He is buried in the Mt. Pisgah Cemetery, Webster County, Missouri..

Her mother's given name was Anna Eliz. Some research indicates her surname may have been Anderson, but that has not been documented. She was born in 1850 and died in 1930.

The Wingo family was living in Livingston County, Missouri on June 18, 1880, at the time of the census. John, age 41, a blacksmith. He was born in Virginia as was his parents. Eliza, his wife, age 39, was born in Missouri. Her father was born in Missouri, but her mother was born in Kentucky.

They had five children: Dora, age 15, Nannie, age 13, Etha, age 13, Annie B., age 7, and Nellie, age 1, all born in Missouri.

The 1900 Census gives us the birth month and year of each individual. The Webster County Census, enumerated June 26, 1900, shows: John A. Wingo, head, born January 1844, in Virginia, age 56, farmer, married 32 years, parents born in Virginia. Ann, wife, born April 1850, age 50, mother of ten children five then living, born in Kentucky, parents born in Kentucky. Earley, son, born May 1883, age 17, Anna F., daughter, born June 1887, age 12. Thomas, son, born August 1889, age 10, and Rebecca E., daughter, born September 1891, age 8. All the children were born in Missouri.

The Wingo family was still living in Webster County on June 26 when the 1910 census was taken: John A. Wingo, head, age 66, farmer, married 42 years, born in Virginia, parents born in Virginia. Anna, wife, age 60, mother of 13 children, 10 then living, born in Kentucky, parents born in Kentucky. Thomas, son, age 20, Arizona, daughter, age 22, and Rebecca, daughter, age 18. All the children were born in Missouri.

The Bureau of Land Management records show John bought land from the U.S. Government on June 14, 1897. It was recorded in the Springfield land office.

Children of William Elkaney

Roy Elmer Barker

Roy Elmer Barker was born November 26, 1896, in Seymour, Webster County, Missouri and died in November 1986 in Seymour. He was buried in the Seymour Masonic Cemetery.

He married Mabel Silvey, daughter of William Silvey and Lucinda Catherine Cardwell December 1, 1917, in Seymour.

Roy first appeared on the 1900 Webster County Census with his parents and again on the 1910 Census.

By the time of the 1920 Census, on January 2, he was married and living in his own home. The record shows: Barker, Roy E., Head, age 23, born in Missouri, father born in Kentucky, mother in Missouri. Mable, wife, age 22, born in Missouri, father born in Kentucky, mother in Missouri. Donald E., son, age 1 1/12, born in Missouri.

The last available census (1930) shows: Roy E. Barker, head, age 33, born in Missouri; Mable, wife, age 33, born in Missouri; Donald E., son, age 11; Howard W., son, age 9; Everett D., son, age 7; and Wayne D., son, age 5.

Carrie Barker

Carrie was born October 28, 1900, in Missouri and died February 23, 1999, in Seymour.

She married Fred K. Cornelison August 21, 1918, in Webster County. He was born May 29, 1898 in Missouri and he died October 11, 1989, in Springfield, Missouri.

Nine-year-old Carrie first appeared with her family on the 1910 Webster County Census.

She was married and living in her own home on January 16, 1920, at the time of the Webster County Census. It shows: Fred Cornelison, head, age 21, born in Missouri, parents born in Missouri; Carrie, wife, age 25, born in Missouri, parents born in Missouri; and Ester, daughter, age 8/12, born in Missouri.

We found Carrie and her family again on the 1930 Webster County Census. It shows: Fred R. Cornelison, head, age 32, born in Missouri; Carrie O., wife, age 29, born in Missouri; Esther O., daughter, age 10; Magdalene H., daughter, age 9; Edna O., daughter, age 5; Raymond R., son, age 3; and Anna L., daughter, age 1. All the children were born in Missouri.

Yvonne Barker

We did not find very much information about Yvonne. She was born about 1903 in Missouri, but no record of her death was found.

She married Jay T. Carter who was born about 1905 in Missouri.

Yvonne first appeared on the 1910 Webster County Census with her parents and again on the 1920 Census.

The same is true of her husband Jay T. Carter. He showed up with his family on the 1910 and 1920 Webster County Census records, but that is all we know about him.

Ray T. Barker

Ray was born October 1, 1905 in Seymour, Webster County and he died in January 1980, in Seymour. He is buried in the Seymour Masonic Cemetery.

Ray married, but we did not find her name. She lived with him in San Francisco California, but did not return with him to Seymour.

Ray was on the 1910 and 1920 Webster County Census with his parents and siblings. We could not find him on the 1930 Census. He may have been incarcerated at that time. There is an article in the Jefferson City Post Tribune, dated 1929 with the heading Ray Barker Trial.

He was convicted of shooting a woman about that time and served four years in the state penitentiary in Jefferson City. We know little about this conviction so the story should be investigated in Jefferson City.

Ray served in the Army (unable to find record). After his discharge, he went to San Francisco, California, where he lived for many years.

Edna Barker

Edna was born July 27, 1907, in Seymour and died in January 1981, in Omaha, Nebraska. She was found with her parents on the 1910 and 1920 Webster County Census.

We do not know when she married. But she was living in Douglas County, Nebraska with her husband on April 9, 1930. The census shows: Floyd J. Todd, head, age 25, born in Missouri. Edna L., wife, age 22, born in Missouri. Robert M, son, age 4, born in Nebraska; Maxine D., daughter, age 2, born in Nebraska; and Wanda E., daughter, age 3/12, born in Nebraska.

Thelma Barker

Thelma was born about 1916 in Webster County and died in Carthage, Jasper County, Missouri. We were unable to find the exact dates.

She married Eugene Denny on May 27, 1933, in Webster County. He was born May 10, 1914 and died March 31, 1991.

Thelma was found on the 1920 and 1930 Webster County Census with her parents, but we could not trace her any further.

Doris Barker

Doris was born about 1925 in Webster County. We have no record of her death, but the Doris Hubbard who appears in the Social Security Death Index, may be her. It reads: Doris E. Hubbard. Birth: 22 April 1926. Death: 14 June 1993. Last Residence: Salisbury, Chariton, MO. SS# 497-24-7596. Issued: Missouri.

Doris was the last child at home. She is the only child who appears with her parents on the 1930 Webster County Census.

Doris married Herschel G. Hubbard in Webster County, but the date is unknown. We know it was after 1943, because Herschel enlisted in the military on September 14, 1943 and was single at that time. He was admitted into the army at Jefferson Barracks, Kansas City. His occupation was Auto Serviceman.

Roy Elmer Barker 1896-1986

Roy Elmer Barker was born November 26, 1896, in Seymour, Webster County, Missouri and died in November 1986 in Seymour. He was buried in the Seymour Masonic Cemetery.

He married Mabel Silvey, daughter of William Silvey and Lucinda Catherine Cardwell, December 1, 1917, in Seymour.

Roy first appeared on the 1900 Webster County Census with his parents and again on the 1910 Census.

On January 2, 1920, he was married and living in his own home. The census record shows: Barker, Roy E., Head, age 23, born in Missouri, father born in Kentucky, mother in Missouri. Children of Roy Elmer Barker and Mable Silvey

Donald Eugene Barker

Donald was born October 19, 1918, in Seymour, Webster County and died September 13, 2002. in Seymour.

He married Mildred E. "Nadine" Pruett in Webster County. She was born January 26, 1921, in Webster County and died February 18, 2001, in Carthage, Jasper County.

The first record we have of Donald is on the 1920 Webster County Census. He was only one year old and living with his parents.

He was still living with his parents on the 1930 census along with his brothers: Howard, Everett, and Wayne.

There was a rather long obituary posted on Findagrave.com that gives us a good record of his family. It reads: Donald Eugene Barker, son of Roy E. and Mable Silvey Barker, was born October 19, 1918, near Seymour, Missouri. He departed this life Friday, September 13, 2002, in his home, in Seymour, Missouri, at the age of eighty three years, ten months, and twenty four days. He was born and raised in the Seymour community and graduated from Seymour High School. He served his country faithfully in the United States Navy from September 26, 1939 until March 2, 1946, during World War II. After being honorably discharged from the Army, he returned to Seymour, where he married Nadine, and they lovingly raised their daughters. For several years he was employed in radiator repair for Auto Mart in Springfield, Missouri, before retiring. Donald had made his profession of faith in Christ and was a member of the Seymour Holiness Church. In his spare time he liked being outdoors where he enjoyed fishing, hunting, and caring for his garden and lawn. His family was very important to him and he especially enjoyed his grandchildren. Donald was a loving father, grandfather, great grandfather, brother, and uncle, and was a caring neighbor and friend. He will be fondly remembered and greatly missed by all those who knew and loved him. Donald served in the Navy during WWII. The U.S Veterans Grave Sites 1775- 2006, shows: Donald E. Barker BM2 US Navy WWII. Birth: 19 October 1918. Death: 13 September 2002. He is buried in the Seymour Masonic Cemetery.

William Howard Barker

William Howard was born in 1920, but we were unable to locate his birth or death records.

We know he married Billie Alexander on October 11, 1941, in Webster County. She was born June 10, 1925 in Webster County and died in January 1984, in Seattle, King County, Washington

Howard first appeared on the 1930 Webster County Census with his parents and siblings: Donald E., Everett, and Wayne. We were unable to locate any other records.

Everett Dean Barker

PSST! This is My Story. Since it is My Story, I get more space. It follows in PART TWO.

Wayne David Barker

Wayne was born about 1924, in Seymour, but we do not have a record of his birth or death. He married Mollie Blankenship, but again we do not have any dates. According to his brother, Everett, he did not have any children.

The one and only record we have of him is on the 1930 Webster County Census, where he appeared, at the age of 5, with his parents and siblings.

Annabelle Barker

Annabelle was the only daughter in the family. She was born May 9, 1933, near Seymour in Webster County and died March 14, 2006, in Seymour.

She married Willie “Junior” Ashley on February 17, 1951, in Seymour. To this union two sons and one daughter were born.

The following information was taken from her obituary: Annabelle Ashley, daughter of Roy Elmer and Mable (Silvey) Barker, was born May 9, 1933, near Seymour, Missouri. She departed this life Tuesday, March 14, 2006, in the Cox Medical Center South, in Springfield, Missouri, at the age of seventy two years, ten months, and five days. She spent her whole life in Seymour, where she and Junior lovingly raised their family. She was a devoted homemaker and an especially good mother to her children. Annabelle had made her profession of faith in Christ, and followed the Pentecostal religion. She attended the Free Pentecostal Church in Seymour for many years and for the past twelve years had been attending the Fordland Free Will Baptist Church. In her spare time she enjoyed working on crossword and jigsaw puzzles, and loved to travel to various places in the United States. She also found great pleasure spending time with her cats. Annabelle was a loving mother, grandmother, sister, and aunt, and was a caring neighbor and friend. We celebrate her life and her accomplishments and will cherish the wonderful memories she created for her family and friends. Everett Dean Barker - 1922

I was the third of four boys and one girl born to Roy Elmer Barker and Mable Silvey. Donald Eugene was born in 1918. William Howard was born in 1920. I was born June 13, 1922, on a farm five miles southwest of Seymour in Webster County. Wayne David was born in 1924 in Nixa, Christian County. Our only sister was born in 1933.

My father, Roy Elmer Barker, was born November 26, 1896 in Seymour. He died November 1986, (five days short of his 90th birthday) in Seymour.

My mother, Mable Silvey, was born on March 8, 1897, in Seymour and died Christmas Eve 1945. Mom and Dad were married December 1, 1917, in Seymour.

Grandfather, William Elkaney Barker, was born November 26, 1876, in Horse Cave, Hart County, Kentucky. He died April 26, 1950, in Carthage, Jasper County, Missouri.

Grandmother, Nellie Jane Wingo, was born June 1, 1880, in Missouri and married December 1, 1895, in Seymour. I don't know when she died, but it was in Seymour.

PARENTS

My Dad was a very honest man. If he gave you his word on something, you could depend on it being just as he said. He taught us honesty. "If you give your word on something," he said, "then do it." One time he walked from Seymour to Marshfield (18 miles) to pay his taxes that were due that day.

Mother was a great influence on my life. If there ever was a Christian it was her. She taught me Christian principles. She taught us not to use bad words. We couldn't even say "darn" or "heck." To this day I have never used those words.

She sacrificed many times so we could have more. I never understood why she loved chicken necks and backs so much until I was grown. Now I know she ate them so we could have the meaty pieces.

Since there were four boys and only one sister, I helped my mother in the house in addition to my work on the farm.

I think often of the agony she went through with four boys in the military at the same time. She prayed for us fervently, all the time.

While I was in the army, she went to church one night and received the Holy Spirit.

I can't find words to say how much love and respect I have for my momma.

FARM LIFE

We lived on a farm, so life was not complicated. We raised most of our food and hunted squirrels and rabbits.

Transportation was by horse-drawn wagon. A few people had Model T Ford cars, but not very many. Trains could travel up to 35 miles per hour and they were powered by a steam engine fueled by wood. Airplanes were small passenger planes. We very seldom saw one.

If anyone had a tractor, it was steam driven. My grandpa Barker had a tractor and a thrashing machine. He would go from one farm to another to thrash their wheat and oats.

There was no electricity on the farm. We had to use kerosene lanterns and lamps. Very few people had telephones, but my grandparents did. To make a call you had to go through the operator in town. She connected you with the person you wanted to talk to.

We had our first radio in 1940. It ran off a car battery. When the battery ran down, we would take it to town and have it charged.

We carried water from a spring near our house. Wash day was quite a chore.

We usually went to town on Saturday in the summer. In winter, we didn't go that often. We took our eggs and if we had any rabbits, took them to sell. With that money, we bought sugar, flour, etc. which we couldn't grow.

Sometimes we were fortunate enough to kill a skunk or opossum. We stretched their hides on boards. When they were dried, we took them to town and sold them for .50 cents or $1.00 a piece

We had a good hunting dog. Every morning Dad would set a certain size board outside the door. By evening the dog had a opossum or skunk the size of the board. One day Mom set the ironing board outside the door. We never saw the dog again :)

We had a general store about a mile and a half from our farm, so we went there sometimes; walking of course.

We built a wood trap to catch rabbits during the winter. It was just a box about eight inches wide and three feet long. We had a trap door on it so that when the rabbit went in he tripped the trigger and the front door dropped into place. We cleared our traps every morning before leaving for school. We cleaned them and on Saturday sold them in town.

When I was about one year old, we moved to Nixa, in Christian County. Wayne David was born there in 1924. About a year later we moved back to the home farm near Seymour.

My Dad had a hay bailer and he bailed hay for a lot of the neighbors. They paid him so much per ton.

We also had a sorghum mill. We made sorghum from cane. The juice was removed from the cane by a horse-driven machine. We had a fire pit about 4x8 feet. A metal pan about 4x8 fit over the pit. Juice from the cane was poured into the pan which was sitting over the fire pit. You had a wooden paddle with a hole drilled in it. With a big handle attached you moved this through the juice in the pan until it was cooked properly. It took quite a skill to cook the juice just right. If you didn't cook it enough, it tasted green. If it cooked too much it tasted burned. My Dad was an expert in making sorghum.

Neighbors brought their cane to have it processed. In many cases they had no money so we got a portion of the molasses. It was very good. You could use it for syrup or bake with it. My mother made many good things from sorghum. My best friend, Bill Kelly, said many years later, "Your mother sure could make good molasses cake."

We didn't have electricity on the farm, so most of our meat was pork. There was no way we could keep beef. You could salt cure pork or smoke it in the smoke house and it lasted a long time. When we butchered hogs in the fall, we would shoot the hog in the head and then very quickly cut its throat to bleed him. We had a 55 gallon barrel mounted at an angle over a fire. We filled the barrel with water and heated it with very hot water. We put the hog in the hot water until the hair was soft then scraped it off. Then we cut the hog up in hams, bacon, etc.

Dad had a walnut cracker made at a blacksmith shop. Every evening when our chores were all done, he had a #3 wash tub full of cracked walnuts waiting for us. We had to pick out the kernels because we got more money for the kernels than for the whole walnuts.

In 1934 or 1935, our only cash crop was tomatoes. We bought the plants and fertilizer at the cannery and after we harvested the crop we paid for them. The tomatoes were harvested in the fall. When we took them to the cannery, we owed .50 cents. We worked all summer for nothing. Needless to say, that was our last tomato crop.

Burnet School near Seymour, Missouri. Everett attended this country school for seven years. This picture was taken in 1974.

SCHOOL

School was a one room school house with eight grades. We walked a mile and a half each way to school. You started to school at age six. There was one teacher for eight grades. After eight grades you went to high school in Seymour.

At school we had a wood burning stove in the center of the room. Those close to the stove were warm, those away from it were cold.

We had homework and had to study. There was no question about it. And we did it, by coal oil lamp at that.

We had a water bucket in the coat closet. We went to the spring on a farm next to the school and carried drinking water for the day. Each child had his own cup. Later they drilled a well so we didn't have to carry the water.

At recess and at the noon hour, we played marbles or had an old can which we hit with sticks, back and forth. What fun!

The day after Halloween we always had the front porch of school filled with fire wood. We had to clear it out before we could get into the school. The chimney would be filled with sacks.

When I was in the eighth grade, we moved to another farm three miles north of Seymour. I attended Mt. Dale School. We had a softball team so we were happy about that. Every Friday afternoon we either traveled to another school or they came to ours for a game. We didn't win many games, but we had a good time.

We only lived there for about a year. We moved to a farm three miles west of Seymour. I attended Seymour High School. My very best friend, Bill Kelly and I, went through twelve years of school together, except for the seven months I attended Mt. Dale. Bill and his brother were the ones who shared our club house.

In high school I was on the softball team, track team, debating team, and worked part-time in the library. I was senior class vice president. And, oh yes, cheer leader for the basketball team.

Just after I started high school, some of the older students organized a sit down strike. We had a study hall where everyone gathered first thing in the morning and from there we went to different classes. This particular morning the bell rang to go to class and everyone just sat there. The bell rang again and everyone just sat there. After three bells, the superintendent came in and said OK. So we sat in the study hall all day. End of strike.

After graduating from high school (I was third in a class of 40), I wanted to attend trade school. In those days you could take a teachers exam, go to college that summer and teach in the fall. I did take and pass the teachers exam, but I was unable to get a school, so that was that.

There was no such thing as a student loan in those days. I wanted to go to college, but there was no way, just no way. So I joined the Citizens Conservation Corps (CCC).

The CCC was a government program designed during the depression years, to give young guys something to do. The main reason I joined was I wanted to be sent out of state, but they didn't do that any more.

So I went to Stone County, Shell Knob, where we worked on roads. It wasn't long until they sent me to Willow Springs. Then we worked in the Mark Twain National Forest planting trees. Soon after that I was transferred to Springfield. Then I got a job working in the lumber yard in Seymour and was discharged from the CCC.

While I was in the CCC, I got paid $30 a month plus room, board, and clothing. That was pretty good. They sent $22 out of the $30 to our homes and gave us $8. My parents saved the money sent to them and gave it to me when I returned.

They gave us a limited amount of military training in the CCC camps.

CHURCH

We didn't have a church in our community, but mother always taught us about Jesus. At times, a visiting preacher would come to our school house for services. In later years we had regular church services in our school--Free Will Baptist.

I remember one time that we went to church on a Saturday night. My mother went forward to accept Christ as her savior. The women told her, "we were surprised to see you go forward." They thought she was already a Christian because she was such a good person. But Mom knew being a good person would not save you. The next morning, we walked one and half miles to church.

While living on the farm north of Seymour, they had a revival in the Presbyterian Church. One night several of us boys went forward and accepted Jesus as our Savior. I have never been sorry about that.

While working in the lumberyard at Seymour, I saw two men come in. They were building something and bought what lumber they needed there. I knew one of the men, Elmer Joiner. I remember him playing sand lot baseball in earlier years. He was a brawler and a drinker (tough). I thought those two were the happiest men I had ever seen. One day I asked the manager who that man with Elmer Joiner was. He said he is the preacher at that Pentecostal Church. Well that ruined an idea I had about Pentecostal people. They were not weird after all. If someone could cause Elmer Joiner to change there had to be something there.

A few days later, my mother wanted to go to the Pentecostal Church, so I took her. The house was packed. I liked what I saw and I continued going there. Sometime later, I received the baptism of the Holy Spirit. From then on I was a full-fledged Pentecostal.

After we went to California we attended Faith Assembly of God Church in Pomona. I served on the church board, was church treasurer, led the youth, and taught Sunday School. Later, in 1975, we bought our first home in Chino. Then we started attending Bethel Tabernacle in Ontario which was closer to home. At Bethel Tabernacle, I served on the church board and taught Sunday School.

YOUTHFUL ADVENTURES

My brother and I, along with two brothers who lived close to us, decided to build a clubhouse. We went into the woods and found some small saplings. We bent them over and found some heavy cardboard and lined them with it. We had a clubhouse. The other boys had an older brother at home so one day they found a whiskey bottle with just a little left in it. We left it in our clubhouse in case of snake bites. One day, Dad came to take a look at our clubhouse. He found the whiskey bottle. Needless to say that was the last of our clubhouse.

When I was about six or seven years old, we had a dog. We were playing with him one day when he began to act strange. My mother looked outside and saw him and told us to run to the granary (a place where we stored grain). We ran, but one of us ran to the field to get dad. By that time the dog had crawled under the granary. They shot him and discovered that he was in the last stages of rabies. Only by God's grace were we not bitten.

Another time dad was raking hay in the meadow, I was probably five or six. I was following where the rake wheels mashed the windrow down, when I stepped into a bumble bees nest. You talk about pain and sickness. I vomited for hours.

When I was in my teens, we went to a shivaree for a couple. The older boys were smoking cigars, so I thought I could too. We rode in the back of a stake bed truck and by the time I got home, about 2 miles, I was s-i-c-k, s-i-c-k. I vomited like you wouldn't believe. I turned dead pale. The next morning I still wasn't feeling well. My mother asked one of my brothers what was wrong with me. I think she knew. That was the end of my smoking days.

DIFFICULT TIMES

One winter, I don't recall the year, we had a smallpox epidemic. You talk about sick, we all were, but we recovered. Many people died because of it. We had a neighbor who came to our place every morning and afternoon to do our chores.

At that time, a dozen eggs would bring ten to fifteen cents a dozen. Wages for a man was $1.00 a day. When I was a teenager, I worked for my grandpa for .75 cents a day. You could buy a 12 oz. bottle of pop for five cents and a loaf of bread for a dime, if you had it.

In 1929, the stock market collapsed. It didn't affect us that much, but four years later, when all the banks closed, it did. Those who had money lost it.

Then we had about four years of drought. Nobody raised much of anything. Soup lines formed in the cities. Men fought each other for the contents of a garbage can. Farmers cut the lower limbs off trees for the cattle to eat.

The Government built canneries over the country and bought cattle. Local people canned the meat and shipped it to the city soup kitchens. It helped everyone.

We were fortunate to live in the country. At least we grew a few things. I can never remember going hungry.

My Dad told me about the time he was walking to the general store to get a 25 lb. sack of flour. It cost $1.00. He had nine rabbits to sell at ten cents each. That made a total of ninety cents. On the way he saw a live rabbit. He picked up a rock and threw it and he now had ten rabbits for a total of $1.00.

I don't recall the exact year, but it was in the early 1930's, in the summer, when the grasshoppers came by the thousands. So many, it darkened the sun. They would land in a corn field and in no time nothing was left.

You will have to judge for yourself whether this is true or not, but I was told that a farmer planted a field of popcorn. I think it was in the 1930's. One hot, very hot, day he was down in the corn field plowing. He stopped for a while and went down to the spring for a drink of water. When he returned the popcorn had popped. The mule thought it was snowing and froze to death.

About this same time, a farmer was plowing a field. He stopped for a while and went to get a drink. When he returned, grasshoppers had devoured his horses and were pitching horseshoes.

FUN TIMES

Every Fourth of July we went to what we called the Diggins Picnic. Folks for miles around would gather in Diggins (four miles north of our place) and had a big time. There were games, ice cream cones (5 cents) and sometimes a movie. We had a ball. We had to wait until after dark to do our chores.

FLOYDENE

I saw a young lady at church and I thought, "WOW!" I had never really had a girlfriend. I asked another young man who that girl was and he said, "Brother [Claus] Daniel's daughter, pastor of the church." The rest is history. I fell head over heels in love. God was directing me in the right direction.

Floydene and I dated often until September 1, 1942, when we were married. Our courtship wasn't complicated. There wasn't much to do in Seymour. I didn't have a car, so we walked down town and talked. We had ice cream, cold drinks, or something like that. We just enjoyed being together. By this time, I had quit work at the lumberyard and was working at the Missouri Farm Association (MFA) store.

OUR CHILDREN

Our girls were very obedient. We brought them up to love the Lord and they never caused us any trouble. We always took them to Sunday School and church. When they were small, getting them ready was something else. You might say we had an assembly line. One of us bathing, the other fixing hair and dressing.

Our first child Gary Dean was stillborn while I was in South Carolina (1942). Glenda Kay was born in 1944 in Seymour. Janice Ann in 1946 in Seymour. Charlotte Fay in 1948 in Oroville, California. And Phyllis Diane was born in 1950 in Pomona, California.

When Phyllis was born, Floydene had a real hard time. We almost lost her. The next morning, the nurse brought into the room a red headed baby boy. Mistake! His last name was Parker.

She worried about keeping the baby's formula fresh in an ice box. We didn't have a refrigerator. You couldn't find one right after the war. One day I was in Pomona and went into McMahan's Furniture Store. They had one and I bought it. I didn't tell her about it so when she got home from the hospital it was a good surprise.

We bought our first TV in 1951. You could look into the room and see four sets of eyes fixed on the screen. Never a movement from them.

They have all grown up now and have families of their own, except for Phyllis. She never married.

Our oldest daughter, Glenda Kay, was active in Girl Scouts and was on the high school drill team. She just recently retired and is living in Corona, California.

Janice lives in Nixa with her husband Alex Trout.

Charlotte married Charles Hopkins. They had been married almost forty years when she passed away in March 2007. Charles, you will always be a member of this family.

Phyllis worked for 21 years at Potlatch Forests in Pomona. She now works for the San Bernardino, California School District.

I have eight grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren. We love you very much. We are proud of you. God bless all of you.

DANIEL FAMILY

My story would not be complete without saying a few things about Floydene's family. Her father was Claus Daniel. He was always called "Cluris" by those who knew him. We don't know where that pronunciation came from.

Floydene's mother was Faye Maples. They were neighbors of the Bradford family. Faye and Cleo Maples (Juanita's mother), were sisters.

Jack Daniel, Cluris' father, was a Justice of the Peace in Stone County. He officiated in the marriage of Faye and Claus and Freddie and Cleo. But since he was JP in Stone County and the Maples and Bradfords lived in Christian County, they had to go into Stone County for him to perform the ceremony. The two couples drove over in a buggy to where Jack Daniel was building a house. The house was in Christian County, just outside his jurisdiction. So they had to drive the buggy across the road into Stone County for the marriage to be official.

Claus and Faye Daniel and Freddie and Cleo Bradford were saved in a revival held by George Youngblood. I don't know the exact year, but it was in the early 1930's. Wendell Daniel told me they rode home that night in a stake bed truck. He said his dad (Claus) preached on his way home.

Claus was a farmer, but the call to preach was very strong. In 1934, the crops all dried up. He told me that God was dealing with him. God showed him the fire in hell, just like he was hanging on a wire over hell. It was then he began preaching. It was his way of life from then on.

Claus and Faye were like parents. They treated me like one of their own. Not a cross word in over forty years. They moved to Seymour in the late 1930's and began having church services in homes. Later they rented a building on the town square.

At that time, Seymour was a tough town. Many individuals were sent to prison for crimes committed in the area. There was a saloon on every corner of the square. After Claus came to town, they all closed down except one. It finally had to close. The mayor told Claus, "You have done more for this town than anyone."

Claus was ministering at a church in Hartsville, Missouri when he died. Just a week before he had held a revival.

Floyd Herman Maples, brother of Robert Herschel, Zelma's father, became a doctor. He delivered Floydene and she was named after him.

MILITARY DUTY

My three brothers had all volunteered for the Navy, but I waited until I was drafted, December 8, 1942. I was sent to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. Just before Christmas, we all got a three- day pass and I went home. We hadn't bought any gifts, but it was the best Christmas ever. I unexpectedly got to be home for Christmas.

After about a month in Ft. Leavenworth, I and about 200 other guys were shipped to Ft. Jackson, South Carolina. When we arrived I was amazed to find the toilets and drinking fountains at the train station all marked colored and white. I couldn't believe it. The Civil War had been over for more than a hundred years, but not in the South.

We were assigned to a convalescent hospital; had basic training in South Carolina then went to Tennessee for a year.

While in Tennessee, Floydene came down and spent about six months. This was wonderful. After a year we headed back to South Carolina and prepared to go overseas. They sent us to a staging base in Pittsburgh, California then to New Guinea. From there to Leyte Island in the Philippines. We set up our hospital and remained there for the duration of the war.

There were not many Christians in the Army, but I became friends to five of them. Non-Christians were not against us and respected our stand.

Once we were without a Chaplain for a while. We had a public address system all over the hospital (3000 beds) with speakers mounted in palm trees. We were given permission to have Scripture reading (without comment) and prayer every morning. I don't know how much good we did with this, but I do know it didn't do any harm and up to 3000 heard the gospel every morning.

One day a man asked me why I prayed for our officers and government officials. I explained the Bible instructs us to do so. I was happy to know that he had heard and paid attention to what was said.

While we were in a ship convoy to the Philippines, we were attacked by Jap planes. They hit one ship, but not ours.

My three brothers were all on different ships. One time all their ships were in our area, I got a twenty-four hour pass and went to look for them. You had to hitch a ride to the ship. From there, we went to another brother's ship. My third brother's ship had just left about 10 minutes earlier. So I just missed seeing all my brothers by 10 minutes.

My job was to check all the patients in when they came to the hospital. I checked their equipment and gave them a receipt. The day before they left, I had to check their medical records and return their equipment to them.

My best friend was a baker. I worked in a building with no windows so I could have a light on late at night. When my friend came over to write letters, he brought things such as pie and cake. WOW!

One night I had just gone to bed when someone knocked on my door, "Barker, get up. The war is over." This was the day we all were waiting to hear.

Then I thought of the military cemetery, hundreds of little white crosses. These men would never go home.

Shortly our hospital outfit was disbanded and went to other units awaiting the trip home. We were scheduled to go home by length of service, length of service overseas, and your number of points. It wasn't long before I was on my way. It took about thirty days to get to us.

We docked in San Pedro, California. We shipped to Riverside, then to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, for discharge. I arrived in Ft Leavenworth in early January 1946 and called home. Floydene ask, "Did you hear about your mother?" I said "no." She said, "She passed away. The funeral is over." I remembered what a good Mama she always was and thought, "I could have written more often, but it's too late." If anyone ever went to heaven, my mother is there. I think many times how she must have agonized in prayer for her four boys; all in war at the same time.

POST WORLD WAR II

After the war Seymour was about the same, just a little country town. I worked for an apple grower for a time. Then in 1947, Floydene's cousin, Blanche and her husband James Harris, his dad and sister, Gladys, came to Seymour from California and had a tent meeting. James and Blanche stayed with us while they were here. We got to talking about California and they wanted us to move there. We talked about it and decided to go. In the summer of 1947, we took our two little daughters, got on a bus, and moved to Pomona.

We arrived in Pomona on Wednesday and I went to work the following Monday. Carl Eutsler gave me a job on a freight dock. I waited another month before we decided to move to northern California. Floydene's father was then ministering at a church in Oroville, so we moved up there.

I worked in the lumber industry. After about a year, we decided to move back to Pomona because the work in Oroville was seasonal. By this time we had three girls.

I went to work for the freight company where I worked before going to Oroville. I worked for them until they cut back on the labor force.

I worked for Kaiser Steel in Fontana. They were building on to the plant so I worked construction for three months and was laid off. I had a wife and three daughters and this was not the kind of employment I wanted.

I looked around for a steady job. I was knocking on doors about opening time, not at noon. I went to A..M. Lewis, a wholesale grocery company, and applied. Just so happened they needed someone. I hired on at $1.00 per hour, but it was steady work. I decided this was for me, so I gave it all I had. I followed my own philosophy, "Whatever you do, do it well." My initial salary was $83 for two weeks. They deducted $2.30 for taxes.

I liked my work and worked hard at it. The adding machine was manually operated. We had to write everything on an invoice with a lead pencil. Ball point pens were not around in 1949. We didn't get cash registers until about 1980. We began using computers at corporate headquarters in 1984. We changed from writing everything with pencil and paper to computers after about thirty-five years.

About a year later, frozen foods were just getting started vegetables, fruit, and juice. No TV dinners or pies at that time.

The store manager was making $100 a week plus a percentage of net profit. I decided that is the job I want. I watched everything he did. If I didn't understand, I asked questions about it. If he was doing something and I wasn't busy, I would volunteer to do what he was doing. Nine months later he took a bigger store and recommended me for his job. Twenty years later he told me, "The thing I remember about you, you were a hard worker."

I trained several men who became store managers in other cities. Among them were J.R Harris and Lewis Waldrep.

I liked my job and tried to do a good job. In 1975 an opening came up for a supervisor job and I got it. I had eleven stores from El Centro, California to Las Vegas, Nevada. About a year later, they leased a car for me. I drove about 30,000 miles a year. If I was going very far, Floydene would go with me. Very nice.

One time I had to go to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania for a meeting. She went with me. We had to pay her way, but it was nice. We got acquainted with another Christian couple from Portland, Oregon and spent our evenings with them. We had a great time.

In 1983, my last full year of work, our company did $600,000,000 in sales.

I retired in September 1984, after 35 years with the company. We didn't do much after I retired except keep the house going. We traveled some. Five years after I retired, Floydene was diagnosed with a malignant brain tumor. Six months later she was gone. What a devastation. After forty-seven years of marriage, I was alone.

I took a job delivering flowers for a flower shop, just to keep busy. But there was always night when I was not busy and still alone. I decided I had to have a change. I packed my clothes and TV and moved to Missouri. My daughter Phyllis, still lived in our house, so I was not worried about that.

JUANITA

I took a job at Bass Pro Shops, but I was still lonely. One day, at a funeral, Earl Bradford asked me, "Do you have a friend?" I said, "Oh, yes. I have friends." "No," he said, "I mean A FRIEND." I said, "No." He said, "Call her," pointing to Juanita. I hesitated for some time thinking nobody would want me. But finally I got up the nerve to call her. She said, "I will not see anyone until Orville has been gone for more than a year." I said, "I respect you for that."

I talked to each of my four daughters and told them I wanted to start seeing her. They agreed. When I told Charlotte who I was talking about, she said, "COOL!"

On our first date we went to my high school reunion in Seymour. This was the end of May 1993. We didn't do a lot during our courtship days. We went out to eat. I helped her around her place mowing the lawn, etc. We enjoyed being together.

We decided to get married on her birthday, 1993. We wanted to get married with just a preacher and witnesses, but then we decided to be married at the Oak Ridge Church. Tim Snyder was the minister. Earl and Oleta were the witnesses.

When we arrived, Tim said, "We will have the ceremony in the parsonage." That was OK. I thought he was taking a long time with the ceremony but didn't suspect the surprise that was coming. When we came out of the parsonage, there before us were a whole bunch of people: my daughters, Juanita's daughters, her sisters, Ward and Maxine Maples.

Ward was shooting a shot gun. And, they had me push Juanita around in a wheelbarrow. We looked at our car and it was full of inflated balloons. Then I remembered the Sunday before, Freda wanted to borrow my car. Said she hadn't gotten her mother a birthday card. So she had a key made for my car. After all that we got into the car and started down the highway going to Big Cedar Lodge. I rolled down the windows and balloons floated out of the car.

We spent the weekend in the Branson area. Most of the shows were already closed, but we saw Andy Williams and Box Car Willie. After that we came to our home on Blackberry Lane in Nixa. We have lived here happily ever since. It has been a wonderful fifteen years.

Juanita's daughters, Rita and Freda, live in Ozark with their husbands, Roger Fortner and Dale Rousell, respectively. She has four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

God did me good when He gave me Juanita. She is a wonderful wife. Our families have blended together very well. I love her family and they love me. She loves my family and they love her. Of course, you must remember, my girls and Juanita are second cousins.

I have been sick for the last few months. Juanita has been super. She takes care of me perfectly, of course, she is PERFECT.

TRAVEL

At age 86, I have visited thirty-eight of the fifty states, plus Canada, Mexico, New Guinea, and the Philippines. Not bad for a man who never left Missouri until he was twenty years old.

We had a fifth wheel camper and a boat. They were a great source of enjoyment. A good part of the time we left them at Truman Lake. We fished a lot with friends and especially the Bradfords: Earl and Oleta, June and Junior, and Jack and Eva. Once, I caught a 29 lb. catfish. I think it was a record for our group.

For several years, we made trips to Casa Grande, Arizona with our group. We stayed each time for about 2 months.

That is about it for my personal recollections. The remainder of the story is information gathered during genealogical research. Remember, this part of my story is a work in progress. It is not complete or totally accurate, but it the best information we have to date. POST SCRIPT

After eighty-six years I look back at the progress in my lifetime. If time goes on another eighty-six years there will just as much change as in the past, perhaps more.

Times and things have changed, but I have lived in a great time. There have been bad times, but the good far out number the bad. I have been blessed.

Fourscore and six years ago I began life's journey. Now, in December 2008, I am ready for whatever God has planned. Not once has He let me down. I don't expect Him to do it now. He said, "I have thoughts and plans for you, for good." I believe that. You say, "That is a pretty bold statement." Yes, I know, but it is true.

You see, I have followed the plan of Scripture. I have believed on the Lord Jesus Christ. I believe He died in my place on the cross. I have confessed that I am a sinner and I have asked forgiveness. He said if I do that, I would be ready to stand before Him. So, I can say without hesitation. I am ready for my new home; ready to trade in this old tent for a home in heaven. Jesus said that He went back to heaven to prepare a place for me so that where He is I could be also. I believe that. I am ready for that day.

Think about it. Look at the marvels of creation; the sun, moon, and stars which He made. God, Creator of all things and by Whom all things exists and hold together, the only true and living God, is waiting for me in heaven. I am going to see Him one of these days and I am ready. You can be too. Just follow this simple prayer:

Oh, God, I know I am a sinner. I believe Jesus was my substitute when He died on the cross. I believe His shed blood, death, and resurrection were for me. I receive Him as my Savior. Now, I thank You for the forgiveness of my sins, the gift of salvation, and everlasting life.

If you prayed that prayer sincerely, you too will be ready.
